Calling all artists: be a part of William Carey's 250th Birthday Celebration!

In honor of William Carey's 250th birthday, we're putting together an art exhibit. We are hoping to have 250 pieces of artwork, all inspired by the accomplishments and career of the man known as the "father of modern missions." Artists are asked to create work related to themes from the life of William Carey.

Any media is welcome: paintings, drawings, prints, photographs, mixed media, 3-dimensional work, time-based media. The only stipulation is size, due to the limits of the Lucile Parker Gallery on the Hattiesburg campus of William Carey University. The maximum size requirement for 2-d work is 11"x14" framed. 3-d work must fit within a shoebox.

Please consider participation in this historic event. For information about how to enter your work, click the information link to the left. For information and inspiration about the life of William Carey, click on the link to the Center for Carey Studies at William Carey University.
