PSALM XXXII, XXXIII.

23 Ye faints, love ye the Lord alway,
And to the proud he doth repay
Be of good courage, all ye just,
For those in him that put their trust

24. The man is blest, whose wickedness
And he whose sin is likewise hid,
And blest is he to whom the Lord
Who in his heart hid him no guile,
For whist that I kept close my fin
My bones did wear and wafe away
Both night and day thy hand on me
My moisture like the summer's heat
I did therefore confes my faults,
Then thou, O Lord, didst me forgive,
6 The humble man shall pray therefore,
So that the floods of waters great
When trouble and adversity
Thou art my refuge and my joy,
Come hither, and I will thee teach
I will thee guide, as I myself
Be not rude and ignorant
Whole mouth without a rein or bit
The wicked man shall manifold
But unto him that trusts in God
Be merry therefore in the Lord
Ye of pure and perfect heart.

PSAL. 33.

1 Ye righteous, in the Lord rejoice;
That upright men with thankful voice
Praise ye the Lord with harp, and sing
With string'd instruments founding
Sing to the Lord a song new born,
For why? his word is ever true,
Both judgement, equity and right
With his gifts he doth delight
For by the word of God alone
Their houghs and powers every one
The waters great gather'd hath he
And hid them in the depth of be
Let all the earth then fear the Lord,
And all the world with one accord
What he commanded wrought it was
What he doth will is brought to pass
The counsels of the nations rude
He doth defeat the multitude
But his decrees continue still,
The motions of his mind and will

The Second Part.

11 Blessed are they to whom the Lord
Whom he doth chuse of mere accord
12 Thou Lord from heav'n did call his fight
Befooling from his seat of might 13 The Lord I say, whose hand hath wrought
A King that trutheth in his holt
He man that of his might doth boast
The troops of horsemen all shall fail,
The strength of horse shall not prevail the rider to preserve.

PSALM XXXIV, XXXV.

16 But lo, the eyes of God attend
With such as fear him to offend
That he of death and great distress
And that if death their hand oppresses
Wherefore our soul doth whole depend
He is our shield to defend,
Our joyful souls alway proclaim
For why? in his most holy Name
Therefore let thy goodness, O Lord,
As we always with one accord

PSAL. 34.

1 I will give laud and honour both
My mouth alfo for evermore
2 I do delight to praise the Lord
That humble men may hear thereof
3 Therefore see that ye magnify
Let us exalt his holy name
4 For I myself behought the Lord
And me deliver'd speedily
5 Whoso they be that him behold
Their countenance shall not be daff'd,
6 The poor distressed man for help
Who doth him hear without delay
7 The Angel of the Lord doth pitch
To fave all such as do him fear
8 Taste and consider well therefore
O happy man that makest him
9 O fear the Lord, all ye his saints
For they that fear the living Lord
The lions shall be hunger-bitt
But as for them that fear the Lord,

The Second Part.

11 Come near to me, my children, and
I will you teach the perfect way
12 Who is the man that would live long
See thou refrain thy tongue and lips
13 Turn back thy face from doing ill
Enquire for peace and quietness
14 For why? the eyes of God above
Hear's like wise to hear the cry
15 But he doth frown and bend his brows
And cuts away the memory
16 But when the just do call and cry
That out of pain and misery
17 The Lord is ever nigh to them
And for the contrite spirit he 18 Full many are the miseries
But of deliverance from them all
19 The Lord doth so preserve and keep
That not so much as one of them
20 The sin shall fly the wicked man
And such as hate the righteous man
21 But they that fear the living Lord
And as for those that trust in him

PSAL. 35.

LORD, plead my cause against my foes,
And take my part against all those
Lay hold upon the spear and shield,
Stand up with me to fight the field.
