PSALM XCIV, XC V.

PSAL. 94. J. H.

O Lord, thou dost revenge all wrong,
Since then it doth to thee belong,
3 Set forth thyself, for thou of right
Reward the proud and men of might.
4 How long shall wicked men bear sway
Shall proud and wicked men alway.
5 Thy flock, O Lord, thine heritage,
Against thine people do they rage.
6 The widows which are comfortless,
They fly the children fatherless.
7 And when they take these things in hand,
Can Jacob's God this understand?
8 O folk unwise, and people rude,
Ye fools among the multitude.
9 The Lord who made the ear of man,
He made the eye, all things must then,
10 The Lord doth all the world correct,
Shall he not then your deeds detect?

The Second Part.

11 The Lord doth know the heart of man,
And he in his thoughts doth feign.
12 But, Lord, that man is happy sure.
And through correction doth procure.
13 Wheresoe'er he shall in quiet rest,
When wicked men shall be supprest.
14 For sure the Lord will not refuse
His heritage whom he did choose.
15 Until that judgement be decreed
That all may follow her with speed.
16 But who upon my part will stand
Or who shall rid me from their hand?
17 Except the Lord had been my aid,
My soul and life had now been laid.
18 When I did say, My foot doth slide;
Thy mercy, Lord, most ready was.
19 When with myself I mused much,
Then, Lord, thy goodness did me touch;
20 Wilt thou accept my prayer.
Who with pretence, instead of law.
21 For they consult against the life,
And in their counsels they are rife.
22 But yet the Lord is unto me
To him I flee, because he is.
23 And he shall cause their mischiefs all
And in their malice they shall fall.

PSAL. 95.

O come, let us lift up our voice,
In him our rock of health rejoice.
2 Yea, let us come before his face
In singing Psalms on his grace.
3 For why? the Lord he is no doubt
A King above all gods throughout.
4 The secrets of the earth do deep,
The tops of hills that are most steep.
5 The sea and waters all are his,
The earth and all that there is.
6 Come let us bow and praise the Lord,
And kneel to him with one accord,
7 For vengeance belongs to thee:
Declare that all may see.
8 The earth doth judge and guide;
According to their pride.
9 With lifting up their voice,
Thus triumph and rejoice.
10 And proudly tell their fill,
Whose works are ever ill.
11 They spoil and vex full sore,
Stil daily more and more.
12 And strangers they destroy,
And none doth put them by.
13 This talk they have of thee,
Tuff, no, he cannot see.
14 Some knowledge now discern,
At length begin to learn.
15 The needs of right must hear,
Before his fight appear.
16 And make them understand;
How can yearpa his hand?

The Second Part.

9 Fall down and worship ye the Lord.
Let all the people of the world.
10 Tell all the world, be not afraid.
Yea, the earth so fast hath lay'd.
11 And that it is the Lord alone.
To judge the nations every one.
12 The heavens shall joyfully begin.
The sea and all that is therein.
13 The fields shall joy, and every thing.
The woods and every tree shall sing.
14 Before the presence of the Lord,
When he shall come to judge the world.

PSAL. 96.

SING ye with praise unto the Lord.
Sing unto him with one accord.
2 Yea, fusing unto the Lord alway,
Declare and flew from day to day.
3 Among the heathen all declare.
To shew his wonders do not spare.
4 For why? the Lord is great in might.
And he is to be feared of Right.
5 For all the gods of heathen folk.
Whereas our God, he is the Lord.
6 All praise and honour also dwell.
Both pow'r and might likewise excel.
7 Acribe unto the Lord therefore.
All might and worship evermore.
8 Acribe unto the Lord also.
Into his courts with presents go.

The Second Part.

9 New songs with joy and mirth:
All people on the earth.
10 Praise ye his holy Name.
Salvation by the same.
11 His honour round about.
In all the world throughout.
12 And worthy of all praise.
Above all gods always.
13 Are idols that will fade.
That heav'n and earth have made.
14 Ever before his face.
Within his holy place.
15 All men with one accord.
Acribe unto the Lord.
The glory of his Name.
And offer there the fame.

PSAL. 97.

The Lord doth reign, for which the earth.
The isles also with joyful mirth.
2 Yea, right and justice ever dwell.
Yea, right and justice ever dwell.
3 Yea, fire and heat at once do run,
Which all his enemies shall burn.
4 His lightnings great full bright did blaze.
Wearat the earth did look and gaze.
5 The hills like wax did melt in sight.
They fled before that Ruler's might.
6 The heavens likewise declare and shew.
That all the world may see and know.
7 Confusion there shall come to such.
Ailo to those that glory much.
8 For all the idols of the world.
Shall feel the power of the Lord.
9 With joy shall Zion hear this thing.
For at thy judgments they shall sing.
10 For thou, O Lord, art set on high.
And art exalted wondrously.

For us he doth provide;
His sheep and he our guide.
Then harden not your heart.
Provok'd him in despair.
My power for to prove;
That they would move.
Which caused he to say;
They have not known my way.
Was kindled in my breast.
To enter in my rest.
